OCTOBER 2022

Bring you the latest news about IASED annual conferences.

FORTHCOMING CONFERENCES

2022 International Conference on Big data, IoT, and Cloud Computing (ICBICC 2022) will be in Chengdu, China during December 2-4, 2022. It is organized by Southwest University of Science and Technology, University of Electronic Science and Technology of China, Southwest Jiaotong University, Sichuan University of Science & Engineering, Kunming University of Science and Technology, and China West Normal University.

ICBICC 2022

ICBICC 2022 aims at providing an inclusive forum for global researchers, engineers, professionals from industry to report and explore the major trends on big data, IoT and cloud computing. Notable scholars will share their latest research on the theoretical and practical areas within big data, IoT, cloud computing and solutions to multidisciplinary issues. The three-day program includes keynote sessions, industrial exhibitions, oral presentations and poster presentation and networking activities. We invite submissions of original papers, abstracts, posters for peer review and presentations at the conference.
