WELCOME TO COMEA 2025

2025 International Conference of Mechanical Engineering on Aerospace (CoMEA 2025) will be held in Harbin, China on June 20-22, 2025. CoMEA 2025 is organized by Harbin Engineering University and The Sixth Research Institute of China Aerospace Science and Technology Corporation, co-organized by School of Aerospace Engineering and Applied Mechanics, Tongji University, School of Astronautics NPU, Northwestern Polytechnical University and School of Aerospace Engineering, Xi'an Jiaotong University. It encourages open sharing and discussion among global participants, fostering the exchange of emerging technologies in the greening, unmanned, electrification, and intelligence of aerospace mechanical engineering.

CALL FOR PAPER

- Advanced Manufacturing
- Advanced Motion Control
- Applied Mechanics
- Automation and control
- Fuels and Combustion
- Green Manufacturing
- Heat and Mass Transfer
- Human-Machine Interface
- Micro Mechatronics
- Micro/Nano-Machining
- Modeling and Design
- Modeling of Processes
- Industrial Engineering
- System Integration
- Thermal engineering
- Vibration and Noise Control

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Jinglei Xu

Nanjing University of Aeronautics and Astronautics, China

Shipeng Li

Beijing Institute of Technology, China

SPECIAL SESSIONS

Special Session I : Advanced Aerospace Technology

Chair: Xianggeng Wei, Northwestern Polytechnical University, China

Special Session II : Advanced Mechanical Technology

Chair: Shuming Yang, Xi'an Jiaotong University, China

Special Session III : Guidance and Control Technology

Chair: Yulong Huang, Harbin Engineering University, China

To be updated.
